

SENATORS ACCORD BELGIANS OVATION

Give Warmest Welcome Yet to Moncheur's Party.

RESPONSE IS VERY ELOQUENT

Leader of Mission Foresees Early Deliverance.

United States, and expressed confidence that that delivery would come soon.

In opening his remarks, Baron Moncheur said he had overcome his natural hesitation at speaking before the senate, because of his great desire to express "the gratitude and admiration which the whole Belgian nation feels toward the American people and toward self-government."

Tells of War Horrors.

"You all know," he continued, "the unspeakable evils which have befallen my unfortunate country, the unprovoked invasion, accompanied by a deliberate system of terror, the burning of many of our thriving cities and of innumerable villages, the massacre of thousands of our peaceful citizens and the devastation of our country."

"Then followed the iron hand of foreign domination, enormous war contributions exacted from all the nine provinces of Belgium, ruinous requisitions of all sorts from our people, the seizure of the raw material of industry and even the theft of all machinery, which was sent into the country of our enemy for his own use so that now the silence of death reigns in our industrial centers, which, before the war, had been the most active in Europe."

"You also know, gentlemen, the way in which this regime of oppression has been carried on. Eighty thousand Belgians were condemned in the space of one year to various penalties for having displeased the invader, as for example, the burgomaster of Brussels, who has been in imprisonment for the last two years for trying to uphold the principle of civic liberty which, for centuries, has been an dear to all Belgians."

Does Not Regret Decision.

"You have learned also of the deportation of our workmen into Germany—a crime the horrors of which according to the opinion of one of your countrymen should cause more indignation throughout the entire world, than all the previous outrages against the sacred principles of justice and of humanity."

He declared that Belgium, despite her terrible misfortunes, does not regret her decision, and there is not a single Belgian worthy of the name, who does not, as on the first day of the war, approve the judgment of the government that it was better to die than to live without honor.

"Like Patrick Henry," said Baron Moncheur, "all Belgians say: 'Give me liberty or give me death.'"

Declaring that this sentiment would be shared by all the citizens of America, and that the courage of the

Belgians had been strengthened by American sympathy, the speaker added:

"American initiative has bestowed most generous help upon our starving population, and in offering from this tribune the expression of gratitude of every Belgian heart, I wish also to render special homage to that admirable organization, the 'Committee for Relief in Belgium,' which has done so much to save our people from starvation."

Are Not Conquered.

The sympathy of America, Baron Moncheur said, gives his country new courage. He referred to the steadfast energy of King Albert, and the unceasing efforts of the Queen. He declared that the Belgian people, although bowed beneath the yoke, never were conquered.

He referred to the Belgian population as "a martyr whose courage is upheld by our great Cardinal Mercier." He said it awaits silently in the sacred union of all parties the final hour of deliverance.

"That hour, gentlemen, will, I am convinced," said Baron Moncheur in closing, "be materially hastened by the powerful aid of the United States, and the time approaches when Belgium, restored to full and complete independence, both politically and economically, will be able to thank, in a fitting manner, all those who have aided her to emerge from the darkness of the tomb into the glorious light of a new life."

PARADE OF CAVALRY SET FOR TOMORROW

Campaign for 200 Recruits in District to Be Launched.

As a preliminary to the campaign next week for 200 recruits for the cavalry section of the District National Guard, Troop A will parade through the streets of Washington tomorrow afternoon.

The parade will start from Eleventh street and Pennsylvania avenue southeast about 1 o'clock. The line of march will be west along Pennsylvania avenue to Washington circle. The troop will then march east on K street to Fourteenth, south to F street, east on P street to Seventh, south on Seventh to Pennsylvania avenue, and thence back to the starting point.

Troop A has been on the rifle range at Congress Heights for the last week, and will appear in the parade just as if ordered away from camp to take the field.

The members of Troop A will participate in the campaign along F street all next week to get sufficient recruits to fill the ranks of Troops C and D, needed to complete the First Squadron of cavalry of the local citizen soldiery.

FLAG INSULTER JAILED.

PHILADELPHIA, June 22.—Thirty days to think it over, was what a desecrator of the flag got last night from Magistrate Borie. The house of correction's new occupant is John Hoffenbrock. Hoffenbrock staged a miniature demonstration against America at Frankford avenue and Bridge street. He tore a flag from a porch, and the Frankford police did the rest.

DAYLIGHT BURGLAR SOUGHT BY POLICE

Laborers Watch Bold Thief Cut Way Into Home.

THOUGHT ROBBER A WORKMAN

Mrs. Robert L. Cochrane Returns to Find Rooms Locked.

The police were asked today to search for a white man of slender build, between twenty-five and thirty years of age, who late yesterday rifled the home of Mrs. Robert L. Cochrane, of 1336 Meridian street northwest.

A score of persons who passed the house, while the robber was deftly prying chisel and hammer to a window lock, thought he was a workman making repairs. A squad of laborers, fixing a hole in the street, thirty feet away, heard the blows of his hammer as he wrenched the lock from a front porch window, cut the screen with a large pocket knife and leisurely climbed through the opening to pilage the premises.

Mrs. Cochrane told the police her house was vacant all day. She left it securely locked at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, before starting to the city to shop. When she returned at 3 o'clock she found a gaping hole in the window.

Bureau Drawers Rifled.

A ladies' gold Elgin watch, valued at $25; a "lover's knot" stick pin, set with a small diamond, and $12 in money was the reward of the robber's ransacking the house. Bureau drawers were left open and personal effects thrown about in wild confusion.

Detectives summoned by Mrs. Cochrane made an investigation last night. Search was resumed this morning for the robber.

CHICAGO PAPER WON'T HELP TO DOWN KAISER

Staats Zeitung Refuses to Join in Fight for Democracy.

CHICAGO, June 22.—The Illinois Staats Zeitung, a German paper published here, in an editorial advises President Wilson that the United States cannot dethrone the Kaiser, and announces that it will not support his policy of spreading democracy throughout the world.

In its editorial, the Staats Zeitung said: "Now a great cry is sounded in Administration circles: 'Destroy world autocracy—enthroned world democracy.' That is a bigger order than 'catch Villa' ever was. We did not catch Villa, and we will not dethrone the world autocracy. We cannot follow the Administration with that slogan."

Allies in Need of Crater Filler

Looking to America's Inventive Genius to Provide Light Tractor That Will Let Tommies Quit Digging.

One of the pressing needs of our allies now is the invention of a machine that will fill crater holes on the western front, is the opinion expressed today by Lieut. F. A. Sutton, Royal Engineers, British army, who is at the Raleigh.

Lieutenant Sutton has seen service in Turkey, where he lost his right arm in a bombing expedition, and in France and Belgium.

"To the uninitiated the number of men employed in filling crater holes caused by our own shells is beyond belief and it is a constant and growing cause for worry on the part of the officers, for the craters must be filled in order that our men may advance on fairly level ground."

Job For Tommies.

"The ordinary crater hole will measure about thirty-five feet in diameter and from twelve to fifteen feet deep. It requires thirty men, working hard all day with wheelbarrows and shovels, to fill one of these holes."

"Now, for an example, take a handful of beans in your hand, throw them up in the air, and as they fall, imagine they are shells, each shell making a crater hole, and you can picture in your mind the condition of the ground out in front of our men over which they must go afterward."

"It is impossible to describe the magnitude of this war, for it is so far beyond anything that any one is able to describe that no man can paint a word picture of it."

Small Tractor Needed.

"What we need now over there is a small tractor machine that will do this work and relieve the thousands of men now engaged night and day in this work. A Tommy does not take kindly to this class of work, for his mind is made up, when he goes over, to fight and not to dig, but it must be done. The American who will invent some practical machine that will do this work and do it well will do more toward helping his country and the allies than almost anything I can think of now, leaving out the submarine question, of course."

Commenting on the submarine, the lieutenant related some of the latest stunts that the Germans have inaugurated.

"They are now placing glass periscopes on their U-boats. This means that they are invisible even at close range. They, as well as the allies, employ 'listening posts,' and it is an easy matter for them to hear the approach of a boat from ten to twelve miles. They simply lie low until they sight their prey, then steer for him, and the chances are that they land their shells without their victim ever seeing a sign of the boat or the periscope."

"One of the favorite tricks is to tie an old boat to a submarine and trail it through the water. Thinking it a boat in distress, allied boats hurry to her assistance, with the result she either gets into a hot fight or is finished with a torpedo. It did not take the allies long to tumble to this trick, and they now approach any boat seemingly in distress with extreme caution."

Relative to the training of recruits in England, the lieutenant said the men are given six weeks of intensive training.

"This embraces hardening of the feet by constant tramping, bayonet and bombing practice, and other work that they find useful when they arrive at the front," he said. "After they are received in France they are kept behind the lines from four to six weeks in much the same work, gradually advancing them closer to the line where actual fighting is taking place."

Get Special Training.

"Bombers, in special squads, are selected and given intensive training, for it takes special work to make the men proficient in this work and to protect themselves. I have seen green men stand and gaze at a lighted fuse as if fascinated, but they soon find there is no time for this kind of gazing. It's dangerous to them, and their pals."

INCOME TAX PAYERS MUST SETTLE MONDAY

Five Per Cent Penalty Follows Delay After That Date.

Monday is the last day of grace allowed Washingtonians who pay taxes on incomes. If the taxes are not paid on that day, the internal revenue office will add a penalty of 5 per cent on the amount due as taxes, and, conforming to levy an additional penalty of 1 per cent each month while the assessment remains unpaid.

The tax was due on June 15, but ten days of grace are allowed. On June 15, the internal revenue commissioner at Baltimore, who collects the income taxes from Washingtonians, sent out notices to the effect that the penalties would begin on June 25.

The income taxes paid by Washingtonians last June aggregated $495,682.99, and represented assessments against more than $300,000,000.

The income taxes this year are expected to aggregate close to a million dollars, the rate being 2 per cent now as against 1 per cent last year.

Unmarried men are required to pay 2 per cent on incomes in excess of $3,000, while married men must pay taxes on incomes greater than $4,000 a year.

SHOWS FLAG TO BOCHES.

LANCASTER, Pa., June 22.—The first American flag planted within the German lines was placed there by a young man from this place, Boone Bowman, son of Dr. J. C. Bowman, president of the Lancaster Reformed Theological Seminary, and it will be in Lancaster today. The story of a heroic act was made public at a Red Cross meeting.

the "Hyatt Roller"

On Its 12,000 Mile Circuit of the U. S. A.

See "The Hyatt Roller"—the 1909 Buick that holds the world's long distance record, 261,800 miles. It is now traveling from coast to coast and back again.

It is in town today—equipped with its original set of Hyatt Bearings just as the factory installed them 'way back in 1909.

After making their record, over 261,800 miles, these bearings show a wear of only five-thousandths of an inch—not enough to affect their efficiency at all.

Now, enroute across the continent, they are still the same old Hyatt Quiet Bearings, giving perfect, care-free service.

Yet their record, while remarkable, is only typical of what you may expect from Hyatt Bearings in your car.

Every day, automobile owners in every corner of the country are realizing the satisfaction Hyatt Bearings give.

Make sure that your new car is equipped with Hyatt Bearings.
